Author, Podcaster, Speaker, Craft Teacher

ABOUT ME

Sacha Black is a bestselling and competition winning author, rebel podcaster, speaker and craft teacher. She has five obsessions: words, expensive shoes, conspiracy theories, self-improvement, and breaking the rules. Sacha writes books about people with magical powers and other books about the art of writing. When she's not writing, she can be found laughing inappropriately loud, sniffing musty old books, fangirling film and TV soundtracks, or thinking up new ways to break the rules. She lives in Cambridgeshire, England, with her wife and genius, giant of a son.

"8 Steps to Side Characters is a hilarious and informative writing craft book that breathes life into the important role that side characters fill.

This is a must-read for any fiction author."
